Arrived Steamer brig Marquise Island

The Tribune by the dry goods st r s were shut in the st inst in honor of the anniversary of the birthday of General Washington This the Olympia Tribune considers very remarkable and remarks that everything is saying that a man is without honor in his own country We never had the fortune to meet with this saying before and do not clearly see how the conduct of Victorians in Washington's birth day bears on it

Political Signs

The editor of the West Side the Yamhill paper was on a somewhat extended tour last week and he thus speaks of what he saw and heard

During a few days hemmed in at Portland and Salem we had an opportunity of finding out a little of the drift of political feeling in the country. We find there is a great deal of dissatisfaction expressed at the conduct of our State authorities in many respects and at the result of our latter Democratic Legislature The solid substantial taxpayers who have voted the Democratic ticket from patriotic motives are hugely disgusted to discover that they have simply placed power in the hands of men whose only thought is to use that power to their own personal advantage. While the men with their own designs on the public who helped con duct the last campaign under promises of reward and have been deceived because there were not offices and jobs enough to fulfill half the promises made are loud in their assertions that the whole thing is a humbug and that the Ring is a swindle of the first rank

For instance a man who was very active in colonizing Yamhill and Polk counties in consideration of the promise of a fat job at the penitentiary was indignant at seeing the job given to another but when a short time since he heard Mr Watkinds testify in a civil action under cross examination that he (Watkinds) had promised a great many people places and contracts to whom he had never meant to give anything and that he kept a book in which he put down the preferred names and did not even burden his memory with any promise not entered in that book of course that man felt that he been cheaply sold and is not to be blamed for opposing the re election of at least Again, a prominent Democrat, and by the way a gentleman of the highest standing advanced money on warrants issued by Major Berry for work done at the penitentiary brick yard and his warrants were cut down 40 per cent by the celebrated Investigation Committee, while at the very same time Watkinds was paying as much in cash as Major Berry paid in script for the same work. He can hardly be blamed for thinking there is a screw loose somewhere Others have been treated the same way about Penitentiary scrip and we heard of one instance in which Watkinds is paying higher for the same work than Berry did although the latter's bill was cut down 40 per cent

Quite a degree of disaffection arises from the efforts put forth to force Mr Grover into the U S Senate whether the people want him or not. There are other candidates who would like to have a chance at that office, and there are plenty of men who demur to this thing of having their votes being regarded as simply capital for leaders to use in making up States The recent defeats of the Democratic party in other States their woeful lack of any great principle on which to unite as a national party and the slights of their past two years of misrule in Oregon combine to cause a feeling of apathy among the faithful and a corresponding degree of confidence on our part which augur a better state of affairs after the next June election

Persistent Scoundrelism Against the Indians

[From the Sacramento Union]

For a year past deputations of Indians (civilized) from the Choctaws, Creeks Cherokees Osages, etc have been petitioning Congress against the creation of the Territory of Oklahoma setting forth that their tribes do not wish to change from their present system of government guaranteed to them, together with the lands they live upon by the treaties made with the United States Yet in spite of these petitions the Territorial scheme is being pushed in high quarters and is supposed to have its backers among prominent men at Washington The motive is now explained by telegraph It is a scheme to cheat these civilized Indians out of their land by a legal trick They hold under the treaties as wards of the nation But if the Territorial bill becomes a law with the proviso contained in it making all the Indian tribes embraced within the boundaries citizens of the United States, then the peculiar wardship on which the treaties were founded ceases, and the lands revert to the United States leaving the Indians on exactly the same footing with other pre emptors If this were all the measure were not the infernal outrage it appears to be when other circumstances are explained A number of railway companies have secured land subsidies and more still seek such subsidies The land can't be realized because their belts are covered with pre emptors who had acquired prior rights which the railway charters recognized as valid But if these Indian reservations can be by this legal fraud made to revert to the United States then the railway and bounty land thieves will have the pick and choice of a country twice as large as the State of Ohio, where nine tenths of the land is now worth an average of ten to fifteen dollars an acre And this is the meaning of the movement put on foot for the creation of new Indian Territories and the elevation of some fifteen or twenty tribes to citizenship Isn't it magnanimous? We trust Congress will treat the fraud with the scorn it merits and that it may be the cause of a fresh alarm to the country from the dangerous tendencies of those infamous combinations of incorporated thieves and swindlers The man or the party that helps such a scheme will merit eternal disgrace

"PECULIAR PEOPLE"—Two or three years ago an American vessel, the Japan was shipwrecked on the extreme northern coast of Siberia, inhabited by a mixed race supposed to have originated from a mingling of the Russian and Tartar tribes, among whom the crew spent a considerable time Ultimately they were taken off by a New Bedford whaler and lately reached the Sandwich Islands with the crews of the ships abandoned in the Arctic Ocean The description of which they give of the customs and modes of life of their singular entertainers ought to have an especial interest for those sanguine persons who imagine that the whole world is ripe for the immediate establishment of an universal Republic The staple food of these people consists of raw whale and walrus in a state of decomposition while such is their immoderate love of tobacco which in common with whisky they procure from occasional traders that children of both sexes only a few years old may be seen engaged in chewing the weed In the summer time they live in tents of walrus hide and in winter in holes excavated in the mountain side, daylight being admitted through holes cut in the rocks which are stopped up with a sheet of ice During the summer the men employ themselves in hunting whale and walrus while the women are kept busy in gathering grass and herbs for edible and other purposes In winter the chief objects of pursuit are deer bear and foxes The walrus, however, is their staple reliance the blubber placed in pits whose warmth soon reduces it to a state of petrefaction in which condition it is esteemed as a great luxury while the hide furnishes material for huts, clothing, fishing nets, and pretty near everything else Polygamy is indulged in to a great extent each man having as many wives as he can keep the women if they do not come up to the expectations of the husband being discarded and sent back to their parents after a few weeks probation which in case of infidelity to their liege lord a piece of the offender's nose is forfeited for the crime The sailors say naively that they met with many victims of this rigorous law during their sojourn among them

Salt Lake City is said to abound in gambling hells, brothels and saloons just now

SHORT PARAGRAPHS

It is said that sand drifting with the snow and freezing as solid as ice causes much of the difficulty on the Union Pacific Railroad This resists the action of the snow plows, often running the locomotive on top of it, and only making an indention from the flanges of the wheels This is the defense made in behalf of the railroad company

Grace Greenwood, writing from Denver recently, said "Nature did antelopes an ill turn originally in affixing to them a mark by which they can be seen and 'a bead drawn on them' at a distance It renders them especially liable to attack in the rear, which reminds us of a little story A small Colorado boy who had been out planting ran into the house in a state of great excitement saying that he had seen some antelopes in a gulch near by. At his entreaty his mother went out to look at them, but nothing of the kind was to be found She became incredulous and said at last: 'I don't believe you saw any antelopes, it must have been your imagination, my child!' To this the indignant little mountaineer responded: 'Humph! I guess my imagination isn't white behind'"

This paragraph on Russia is floating round Free in the Black Sea, her dominions stretching away to China, and steadily nearing Afghanistan her resources railways and education developing with an army which will in time of war amount to 2 653 303 men, and at any given moment by calling out her reserves able to bring into the field 1 234 400 men; with a fleet now formidable and quietly increasing and, above all with a Government rising step by step from the commune to the Imperial throne, and that throne looked up to with almost superstitious veneration and love by her millions of inhabitants at once the most democratic and absolute Power in Europe, Russia promises ere long to be a match single handed against any rival whatever Whether she will submit to be cooped up in the Baltic is a problem the future alone will solve

Few people have an adequate idea of the magnitude of the Texas cattle trade It is estimated that 600 000 beeves have been driven from Texas into Kansas, Nebraska and the Western States and Territories during the past year. It takes about 20,000 head of beeves annually to supply the Indians For these the Government pays In all the range of country between the Rocky Mountains and the Mississippi, as high up as British America, they receive cattle from Texas They are driven in immense droves through the Indian country without molestation As a drove travels but six or eight miles a day when on a long journey, the cattle improve and increase in flesh when the grass is good Many cattle are driven to the Pacific coast, but in this trade few beeves are taken, the principal portion of the droves consisting of heifers which are intended for stock raisers

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Victoria papers are filled with proceedings of the British Columbia Legislature

The wrecked bark Zephyr has been abandoned Her condition is hopeless, and nothing whatever will be saved from her

There are seventy five prisoners in the Victoria jail. If they were boarded on the Portland plan it would bankrupt the city.

Two tons of rock have been taken out of the Parmetta quartz ledge, nine miles from Victoria, and shipped to San Francisco for assay

The Canadian Ministry have finally decided not to admit a member from British Columbia or one from Manitoba, into the Cabinet until after the general elections next fall are over, and the result known

Mr. De Cosmos, one of the members of the local Legislature, and editor of the Standard has taken his departure for Ottawa Whereupon the editor of the rival organ remarks with great courtesy "Sic transit gloria humbug"

The agent of the Canadian Pacific Railroad wants to ship supplies from Victoria by way of Portland and the Columbia river for the use of surveying parties in the Rocky Mountains north of the 49th parallel, but on learning that he cannot do so without paying duties, the project will probably be abandoned.

The Agricultural College

We take the following from the Farmer

In the last issue we published a communication from "Corvallis" in reply to our article some weeks since on the above subject

We are glad to learn that the Corvallis College has even thirty five acres of land actually cultivated That is something From this communication we judge that the Corvallis Professors of Agriculture are probably doing as well as their limited facilities will permit Our complaint is not against the teachers or managers of that institution but against the Legislature for the manner in which they disposed of the matter

Our correspondent seems to think that it is all right at least we infer that such is his opinion, because he does not say so directly We differ with him. We have not examined the journals of the Legislature, and do not desire to. Taking our correspondent's statement that it was eighteen 'whole' days from the time the bill was introduced until it was approved by the Governor we still say that there was no time nor opportunity for investigation and none was intended to be allowed and the matter was substantially disposed of in a day The bill was all the time in the hands of a committee of its friends. The law shows for itself It is no law at all for the subject It contains no rules regulations considerations or requirements to be had or done by Corvallis College. If the College does anything to deserve the franchise, it is just that much more than it is under any legal obligations to do A proper investigation of the subject would have placed the Agricultural College franchise in the hands of a responsible commission to invite proposals for the location of the college without authority to thoroughly investigate all such proposals If that had been the case and Benton county had been compelled to compete with Marion Linn Yamhill and other counties, and Corvallis College placed in competition with the Albany Salem and Forest Grove schools we would have seen something more than thirty five acres of land secured to such a noble purpose We would have seen money, buildings farm philosophical and chemical apparatus, etc etc secured to the State for farmers in requital for a ninety thousand acre land grant Our correspondent must see that the interests of the State have not been consulted in this matter

We did say that it was a Democratic job—but a political job If the Democrats are responsible for it let them take the blame We know that Republicans voted for the bill The information that it was a job came to us from leading Democrats one of whom was a member of the Legislature and voted for the law he excusing his vote by saying that it was necessary to do so in order to secure votes for the passage of another measure We forbear to mention names but such are the facts

Railroad from Gray's Harbor

[From the Port Townsend Argus.]

Our readers may recollect that in July last we gave an account of the mysterious appearance of a party of engineers who were observed running lines on this peninsula No one knew whence they came or wither they went The simple fact that they were here is all that was known We have recently been informed that this party of engineers was engaged in making a reconnoissance to ascertain the practicability of constructing a railroad to connect Gray's Harbor with the Sound It appears that some heavy capitalists have made extensive purchases of the valuable agricultural land in the valley of the Humtolups river emptying into the south side of Gray's Harbor—in fact, all of the surveyed land in that region has been bought up Explorations made last summer develop the fact that from the head waters of the Humtolups all through to the southern slope of the Olympic range, is an immense body of the best agricultural and timber land in the Territory This land has never been surveyed and contains an area of over seventy-two townships a large portion of which is prairie It is to develop and open up to settlement this valuable region that this railroad project was proposed, and the reconnoissance has demonstrated the fact that a road can be constructed at a very moderate cost

This line of road will cross the Olympic range by means of a pass of easy grade near the head waters of the Dungeness river thence running through the valley between the foot range and mountains will reach the head of Port Discovery Bay and thence to Port Townsend, which will become the shipping point In answer to our inquiries why Gray's Harbor would not be used for that purpose, we were informed that the Humtolups river at its mouth, runs through extensive flats spreading into a number of small streams, and that there is no channel of sufficient depth to allow large vessels to approach and that Gray's Harbor is a barred Harbor If this road should be built, it will be of direct benefit to and, in connection with the North Pacific railroad should that company decide to extend its Columbia river branch down the west side of Hood's Canal But whether built or not the fact has been demonstrated of the existence of a valuable region of agricultural land which has hitherto been utterly unknown except to a very few hunters, and persons hunting timber for mill purposes It is conceded by all these latter that between the foot hills and the Olympic range on its north side, is the finest body of timber on the American continent which by means of a railroad can be made available for commercial purposes We understand that the whole region between Gray's Harbor Hood's Canal, and Fuca Straits will be pretty extensively explored the coming season and we advise those persons who are about looking up claims for settlement to have an eye to that portion of our Territory

The Enforcement Act or Ku Klux Law

In the Salem Mercury we find the following statements

> One of the most odious and vicious of the later measures of the Republican party is the Ku Klux law This infamous measure is based on the idea that the Federal Government may properly take jurisdiction of the alleged acts of violence committed by the so called Ku Klux of the South upon the negroes for the reason that the latter are citizens of the United States and that the object of those acts of violence is to deprive them of one of their rights—that of suffrage Under the stupendous authority conferred upon him by this law the President has the power to suspend the writ of habeas corpus throughout this entire land to declare that the people are too weak or too wicked to be trusted with the control of their domestic concerns

The present editor of the Mercury is a gentleman whose views we wish to respect and we cannot but think that he would have avoided the serious errors into which he has fallen while discussing this subject had he given more careful attention to the Act itself. His article states, substantially that the authority conferred on the President by the Act is unlimited absolute despotic If so that authority must be conveyed by the third and fourth sections of the Act

The third section declares that in all cases where insurrection domestic violence and unlawful combinations hinder the execution of the laws and deprive innocent persons of the rights and privileges guaranteed to them by the Constitution of the United States and the constituted authorities of the State shall be unable, or shall fail, to afford protection, such facts shall be deemed a denial by such State of the equal protection of the laws and it is then made the duty of the President to employ the land and naval forces of the United States to suppress such insurrection, domestic violence and unlawful combinations, and to put down any conspiracy designed to oppose or obstruct the laws of the United States

This section confers no new power on the President As much as is here enjoined would, in the condition of things supposed be unmistakably his duty if no Ku Klux bill had been passed By constitutional and statute authority and in the very nature of his office as Chief Executive it belongs to him to enforce the laws of the United States, to suppress violence and insurrection and to protect all classes of citizens in the enjoyment of their legal immunities Let us now examine the fourth section, which seems to be the one on which our contemporary bases its strongest charges

This section declares that certain insurrectionary combinations shall be deemed rebellion against the Government of the United States and shall make it lawful 'for the President of the United States when, in his judgment the public safety shall require it, to suspend the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus to the end that such rebellion may be overthrown

Now let us see under what circumstances and on what conditions the President can exercise the authority conferred

1 There must exist in some State or part of State unlawful combinations, "organized and armed and so numerous and powerful as to be able by violence to either overthrow or set at defiance the constituted authorities of such State and of the United States

2 Or the constituted authorities must be 'in complicity with or connive at the unlawful purposes of such powerful and armed combinations

3 Or when because of any or all of these facts, 'the conviction of such offenders and provision for public safety' has 'become in such district impracticable '

4 The authority given extends only 'during the continuance of such rebellion

5 It is confined "within the limits of the district which shall be so under sway thereof—such limits to be prescribed by proclamation

6 'All provisions of the second section of an act entitled an act relating to habeas corpus and regulating judicial proceedings in certain cases remain 'in full force so far as the same are applicable to the provisions of this section

7 The President must 'first have made proclamation as now provided by law —that is before this enforcement bill passed—'commanding such insurgents to disperse

8 The provisions of this section shall not be in force after the end of the next regular session of Congress '

It is only necessary carefully to read these provisions to see how unfounded the assertion is that there is no limit to the authority which they grant to the President The President can act only when a state of things exists which requires his action, and it is never tyrannous, it is never a menace to liberty to put down lawlessness turbulence, sedition and violence If the Ku Klux will be quiet they will never feel the weight of the law if they are not quiet they should be made to feel it Let them disperse their unlawful combinations and permit the peace and order of the country to remain undisturbed let the Democratic party of the North cease to inflame them to violence by declaring that the Amendments to the Constitution are fraudulent and should not be obeyed, and that the Ku Klux are excusable for rising against oppression ' let all violence cease and let the rights of free speech and free ballot be everywhere conceded, and there will be no occasion for the exercise of unusual powers anywhere But until these things are done, and so long as Ku Klux atrocities continue such powers must be exercised The Mercury concedes that there is such an organization as the Ku Klux but says it would have it suppressed by local authority But when the local authority cannot or will not, what then? The law of Congress was specially devised to meet this emergency Preach how long they will Democratic journals will never be able to convince anybody that it is wrong to repress violence and disorder

There has been considerable talk by the Democratic newspapers of the State about the propriety of calling a special session of the Legislature The Salem Mercury estimates that the expenses of a twenty days session would be $14 000 That paper announces its opposition to the proposed session which fact may be taken as an indication that the Governor is opposed to it and that none will be held

The improvement in the Herald since the late change in its proprietorship is very noticeable It is now what it never was before a really good newspaper Its columns show editorial industry, as well as superior tact and management We congratulate our contemporary on the improvements it has made

Unpleased Democracy

[illegible] that there is nothing [illegible] and with the Democratic party All the [illegible] from the East point in the same direction Every authoritative expression of the party's purposes tends this way In Missouri in Kansas in Illinois in Ohio at Washington, the tendency is decidedly toward the passive policy The Labor Reformers who held their Convention last week at Columbus Ohio nominated Judge Davis of the Supreme Court for President If the Cincinnati Convention of Republican malcontents which is to assemble in May does the same thing it may be considered almost certain that an attempt will be made to throw the Democratic vote for him, or if he be not nominated at Cincinnati that the nominee of that Convention whoever he may be will be accepted by the Democratic National Convention

The passivists are certainly developing great force It is reduced almost to a certainty that no distinctively Democratic candidate will be placed in the field, To the sagacious members of the party a national fight on square Democratic principles seems quite hopeless Hence the best thing that offers appears to be a coalition with those discontented Republicans who from disappointed personal ambition or from whatever cause, desire the defeat of General Grant Democratic politicians who urge this course trust that in case success crowns the effort the new Administration will naturally fall under the influence of those to whom it was mainly indebted for its elevation to power and that it would therefore of necessity be substantially Democratic

From these political signs it cannot but be noticed to what straits the Democratic party is reduced It absolutely despairs of a triumph on its own principles, but hopes by a sort of jugglery and by roundabout strategy to gain what it trusts to make equivalent to a victory Democrats in this State are now lustily declaring that they will not tolerate this 'passive policy, that they will have none of it that it is neither cold nor hot, and they will spew it out of their mouths But when the party regency at the East issues the word of command they will accept it, and nine-tenths of them will go to the polls and vote for the Abolition-Republican-Radical-Passive-Democratic candidate So elastic and adjustable is the body of the Democratic vote that it can be thrown without much difficulty wherever the managers direct

Of course there is still much reluctance and hesitation about accepting this policy, and now and then recalcitrant Democrats are found who emphatically denounce it Many still pause upon the brink "pondering the voyage, ' and beg for time to consider. But these can all be forced into the ' passive attitude when the time shall seem propitious for it It seems to be the opinion of the most intelligent political observers, that no Democratic candidate for President will be put in nomination and that the individuality of the party will soon be lost in a combination of discordant elements which will try to unite for the defeat of Gen Grant

The Blockade Re established

Dispatches of the 26th state that the snow blockade on the Union Pacific is again established It has been hinted in some quarters that the storms of this winter are being allowed their way and that no great effort has been made to keep the road open, the object being to depreciate the stock in the interest of some prominent "operator ' The San Francisco Post a few days ago asserted a belief that there is a ' job" in the blockade, and speculated on the matter thus

> It is not difficult to imagine a motive for thus blocking up the great highway for a month. It may be that the great railroad king, Tom Scott who is now President of the Union Pacific, wishes to bull its stock and depress its bonds, either as a move in a grand stock jobbing operation, or for the purpose of buying in cheaply Or it may be that this blockade is gotten up to aid in selling the bonds of the Atlantic and Pacific road, in which Scott is largely interested. The greatest impediment to the sale of these bonds in Europe is the existence of a parallel road If it can be shown that the existing road is useless in winter, there will be much more disposition to invest in the bonds of the Southern road.

San Francisco has felt very keenly the interruption of communication, The Bulletin of that city, of late date, says

> At any cost we must be protected against a recurrence of this disaster If the road already built can be protected at any outlay it should be done, if it cannot—and Congress should lose no time in ascertaining the facts either way—we must adopt a new and better route and construct a line running through a country not liable to such storms, if one can be found The evil is too great to be cried down or belittled, and delays under such circumstances as those in which we are now placed are not only dangerous, but certainly and absolutely disastrous to the last degree

It is a well established fact that the Northern Pacific will furnish a route not liable to such interruptions The Southern road, however, is indispensable to California But doubtless the Northern road will be in operation first

The Governor s Private Secretary

> Gov Grover has a Private Secretary at $1,200 per annum who is constantly employed in the duties of the office rendering services which would command even a higher salary in any other State but this The OREGONIAN thinks that this extravagance is just awful ! and 'unconstitutional besides' ! ! Gov Woods had his Private Secretary (nominally) his own son, a little boy, in the "pot hook" stage of chirography, who never did an hour's work in the office but was attending school most of the time He simply permitted the State to use his name in the vouchers and for this service his father drew $600 per annum The OREGONIAN thinks this is commendable economy —Salem Mercury

The OREGONIAN never before heard that Gov Woods had his own little son for Private Secretary and therefore of course the Mercury is not entitled to say that the OREGONIAN thinks it commendable economy ' On the contrary, it thinks it (if true) most reprehensible Moreover it thinks and has always thought this salary of Private Secretary whether it were $600 or $1 200 per annum unauthorized by the Constitution and virtually in contravention of that instrument If the Mercury thinks it worth while to quote the OREGONIAN, its own sense of propriety should cause it to quote accurately

Here is a new grief Calumniators who had been charging Mr [illegible] Cooke, late Treasurer of State with appropriating the public moneys to his own use are obliged to admit that every dollar due the State has been accounted for and paid over by him But now they are in some trouble about the dates stamped on some of the coins The Herald has an article a column in length on the subject If it be true that the dates on the coins do not come up to Democratic expectation we regret it we mourn over it What date should the coins have to satisfy our aggrieved friends

The Roseburg Plaindealer says Mr George [illegible] Cole, agent for the Oregon and California Railroad is at present in town for the purpose of securing the right of way or of ascertaining the probable cost of the same So far the people of this county have shown a liberal disposition on this subject as we have no doubt they will continue to do

The Randolph mines on the beach at Coos Bay are again paying well Several companies are at work and get good results The gold is very fine and quite difficult to separate from the sand

Dr, Kellogg's new steamer, the Quitta, on Yaquina Bay, has made her trial trip Her performance was very satisfactory She is eighty feet keel and fifteen feet beam She made eleven miles an hour with fifty pounds of steam

Lane county has a deputy Sheriff who is so "high' that he can't get along the sidewalks without thumping his head against the signs and portions in front of the buildings A local paper calls on property owners to lower them a little and he can step over them

S A Clarke of the Statesman announces himself as a candidate for Clerk of Marion county He has had experience in that line of duty, and says that ' if the income of the office is placed at his disposal, it shall be used to make the State ... more valuable to the people '

The Dallas Republican Feb 19th, has the following Mr George Tillotson who has been building a saw mill and grist mill on the Grand Round Reservation, returned yesterday He informs us that both mills are finished in good style The grist mill can grind about three hundred bushels of wheat a day and the saw mill has a capacity of 7 000 feet Last Monday the Indians held an election, and chose a Sheriff Justice of the Peace and other officers in lieu of their Chiefs They have adopted the marriage ceremony of the whites and are fast yielding up their customs to those of civilization They express regret at the removal of Meacham, as they look upon him as a true friend of the Indian

THE TERRITORIES

A Puget Sound paper says General Stevens bought last week of Stewart & Leary thirty imported Australian sheep, for which he paid $500 in coin

One hundred and twelve boxes filled with the bones of deceased Chinese have been received at Port Townsend from British Columbia, for shipment to China

The city of Olympia is now six miles long by four wide, and is still spreading It is something larger than the village of New York But New York labors under the disadvantage of having no "terminus "

An Olympia paper says ' We learn that in all probability a contract will be given, within the next three weeks, for grading from the Skookum Chuck river to Hodgdon's, which, when completed will bring the road to a distance within fifteen miles of this city "

On the 19th inst the prisoners confined in the Idaho Penitentiary at Idaho City, made their escape They got out by the connivance of the cook who was a convict, but a sort of "trusty " Seven escaped This sort of thing is so common at the Idaho institution as to occasion very little remark.

The Boise Statesman learns that, notwithstanding the mild winter experienced in that region, stock has suffered to a considerable extent, especially those turned out in Snake river valley Many work oxen perished. They had strayed off on the high table land, where they could get neither food nor water,

The Owyhee Avalanche of the 17th says "Two miners named Crawford and Dowry had a row at the Skookum boarding house night before last, resulting in the latter being shot by the former The bullet passed through the upper portion of the right side of the abdomen, penetrated the right arm on the inside above the elbow, and lodged under the skin on the outside. It is a flesh wound, and is not considered dangerous "

CITY.

The Office of The Daily and Weekly Oregonian is removed to the N E corner of Stark and Front streets

The Ghost that Won t Down —Now comes the Herald and puts a new head on the romance of the corpse that Mitchell bought It has received a communication through the postoffice which, if reliable explodes the theory that the body was that of Johnny Clark The correspondent says it is true that Clark s body was exhumed and shipped to this city but he affirms that it was sent on to California and interred at San Jose, by the loving sister heretofore mentioned We suspect that this correspondent don t know any more about the matter than the man who ingeniously framed the John Clark romance and that he has said his say merely for the purpose of adding fresh mystification to what was already a stunner of a mystery As the matter now stands, however the ghost is at large and liable to turn up at any time under whatever name it may select It's uncomfortable but we don t know of any present means of laying the thing

A Novel Habeas Corpus —The petition of certain sailors of the bark Metis, for a writ of habeas corpus, was heard before Judge Deady yesterday, and the matter was taken under advisement, the captain by his attorneys agreeing to keep the sailors within the jurisdiction of the court (on board the vessel) till the matter should be decided. Afterwards, the party to whom is attributed the engineering of the whole affair, for the deserting sailors, went before Justice Snyder and got out writs of arrest for debt against the men, and the constable went down to serve it Mr Burmester attorney for the Captain, made a tender of the amount for which, under the laws of the United States, the ... could be sued, and warned the officer that no arrest would be made at his peril At our last ... in, this novel expedient to get the men out of the ship was hanging fire, the officer not having ... to execute the writs

Appointment of State Lecturer —Mr. Jacob Stitzel, G W C T of the Order of Good Templars of the State, has commissioned Father William Harman, of Wasco county, as State Deputy G W C T and State Lecturer Father Harman is one of the oldest Temperance workers on the Pacific coast. He first became identified with the cause in the early movement of the Washingtonians, and has been connected with nearly all other Temperance orders since that time. Mr Harman goes from here to the Dalles to organize a Lodge of Good Templars at that place, after which he will lecture through the valley counties of this State commencing in Marion county

Horse Drowned —Yesterday forenoon a horse and dray belonging to Mr J Dougherty, driven by a new hand were backed off the railroad wharf on the east side of the river and lost The horse had pulled the load about half way up the incline when he stopped and commenced backing The driver not knowing how to manage a horse under such circumstances, jumped off the dray and pulling hard on the reins, materially assisted in ...ing about the disaster. The load of ... on the dray floated off on the current, but the dray dragged the horse down, and neither were seen after the first plunge The loss of Mr. Dougherty is probably about $500.

Another Lecture by Mrs M M. Miller —Mrs. M. M. Miller announces another lecture to take place at Philharmonic Hall, Thursday evening. On the occasion of her former appearance before the public she gave us her views of the women, now she proposes to give us "Man—His Past, Present and Future." Judging of her past ..., we feel sure that this will have material to ... all who may go to hear her We ... she will handle her subject without gloves, and that we poor "lords" may look out for some sharp thrusts Admission only fifty cents.

Auction One —Wells, Fargo & Co will have an "old horse sale" to day in which Mr. A B Richardson will figure as auctioneer Mr. R has been providing for two or three days past to furnish the reporters with a new sensational item', and his vague hints may have pointed to this sale. We shall attend, but it's understood, in advance, that suspicious looking boxes will be given a wide berth.

Decoration Day.—At the last regular meeting of Baker Post, No 1, G A R , a committee was appointed to make arrangements for a celebration of the annual "Decoration Day" The Post moves thus early in the matter because it is intended to get up the celebration in good style, and to have it entirely open to the participation of the public

Accident —At the theater last night, as the curtain was descending upon the close of the play the back scene representing Vesuvius in a state of eruption, took fire, but the presence of mind of the people on the stage extinguished it without much damage to the properties, and prevented a panic among the audience.

The Ship Windward —Captain Gliddon, under whose superintendence the repairs to the ship Windward are being made, informs us that the spars for her are daily expected to arrive from St Helens, and that the ship will be fully ready for sea within the next sixty days

He Didn't Do It —A few days since a young man named Z Newby was arrested in this city by the Deputy Sheriff of Douglas county on the charge of larceny Being taken back to Oakland and examined, there was nothing proved against him, and he was discharged

The New Trinity Church —A very handsomely executed design of the proposed new Trinity church in Portland is on exhibition in the show window of Messrs Gill & Steel

THE PIONEERS

A LECTURE BY EX GOVERNOR GEORGE L CURRY

There was a good audience last evening at Philharmonic Hall to hear ex Governor Curry's lecture on "The Pioneers." Of his prefatory remarks concerning the distinguishing characteristics of the pioneer class of men we took no notes, further than of his incidental allusion to the fact that he had been a resident of Oregon for more than a quarter of a century

Introducing the class of whom he proposed to speak he said that measuring undertakings by their results, there were two men who stood out in bold relief in the history of the world, as pioneers—Saul of Tarsus in the world of morals and religion and Columbus in the physical world The one had preached a new civilization, the other had discovered the means of spreading that civilization to all parts of the world

THE DISCOVERY OF OREGON

Disposing of this part of his subject he went on to say that just three hundred years after the discovery made by Columbus a ship bearing the the flag of a new nation which his grand achievement had brought into existence entered the mouth of an unknown river, which was named after the vessel and is now known as the Columbia Subsequent explorations proved the country to be magnificent in forests and beautiful valleys of fertile land It obtained the name Oregon from the appellation Oregana, given to the country north of California from the circumstance of the prolific growth of a plant or shrub perhaps the artemisea, which the early Spanish navigators likened to the wild marjorum which is the meaning of the Spanish word Oregana. He knew of nothing to sustain the beautiful idea that the word Oregon was derived from Indian tradition, meaning the land nearest the setting sun, or the most western land

THE FIRST SETTLEMENTS

The first settlement in Oregon was made by Americans at Oak Point, on the Columbia, where Captain Smith, of the ship Albatross of Boston in 1810, landed and commenced the cultivation of a tract of land The succeeding June freshet swept away his improvements and he abandoned the place

The ship Tonquin, the pioneer of the American Fur Co (Astor's), arrived in March 1811 She anchored in Baker's Bay and the little cove took the name of the vessels A landing was made at Fort George now called Astoria, and thus in April 1811, was founded the first permanent settlement of Oregon We find in the relation of the lecturer a singular coincidence The new Company sent exploring expeditions up the Columbia and Wallamet rivers Among others one was led, in 1812, by a man named Halsey who established a trading post near the site of the present town of Halsey, so named in honor of the Vice President of the Oregon & California Railroad Co The place has been thus twice christened Halsey and each time, at the opening of a most important epoch The American Fur Co 's property and settlement finally passed into the hands of the Hudson's Bay Co

THE UNITED STATES CASTS AN EYE UPON OREGON

The first recognition on the part of Congress of such a country as Oregon occurred in 1825 when Mr Floyd, of Virginia, introduced a bill "authorizing the occupation of the Oregon River," and providing for the maintenance of military posts collection of customs, donations of lands to settlers, etc The bill passed without the latter provision Mr. Curry quoted, here, at some length from a speech made in February of the same year, by Mr Dickerson of New York who declared that this Territory of Oregon could never become a State, and then went on to speak of its immense distance, the difficulty of travel to and from and the extraordinary expense of maintaining communication, etc. His predictions are very amusing, in the light of the present state of things

While Congress was making attempts at legislation of various sorts in regard to Oregon, the people themselves came out and took possession They built churches, established schools, and inaugurated a civilization that did more to secure the country to the United States than did all the diplomats and statesmen at home.

THE FIRST AMERICAN SETTLERS

The first permanent American settlers in Oregon were J H O'Neill, Hubbard and others who came with Capt Wyeth of Boston, in 1834. The brothers Lee of the M. E. Mission, came later in the same year Dr. Whitman, Rev Mr Spaulding, with their wives, and Mr. W H Gray arrived in 1836. Mrs Whitman and Mrs Spaulding were the first white women, and their children were the first American children born in Oregon Mr O'Neill is still living, a resident of Polk county, and is now the oldest Oregonian pioneer living in Oregon There were only about 250 whites here in 1840, of which number 140 were Americans

THE BEGINNING OF GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION

The first attempt at an organized government was made in 1841 The laws of New York were adopted and Rev Dr Babcock was elected Supreme Judge There was no Executive This form of government proved inadequate and in 1843, at a mass meeting called for the purpose of taking measures of protection from the ravages of wild animals, a committee of twelve was appointed to report a plan of government This committee reported on the 4th of July, recommending an Executive Committee of three, a Legislative Committee of twelve, a Supreme Judge and Justices of the Peace The report was adopted In 1845, the Executive Committee gave way to a Governor and the Legislative Committee to a House of Representatives a form of government which continued till March 3, 1849, when the jurisdiction of the United States was extended over the country by an act of Congress, organizing the Territory of Oregon

THE COUNTRY IN 1846, AND AFTERWARDS

In 1846, Oregon comprised six counties—north of the Columbia river, the two counties of Vancouver and Lewis, south of it, Clackamas, Tualitan, Yamhill and Champoeg The population was largely augmented by the immigration of 1843, '4, 5 and '6 [The lecturer himself arrived in 1845] He made his first visit to Portland that year All it could then boast of was its proprietor and three or four buildings In 1848, affected by the general gold excitement, he sold the entire property for $5,000 went to California and invested in the town site of Benicia. The speaker here made some felicitous remarks of the growth and history of our city, contrasting the the existing state of things with 1846

THE PIONEER NEWSPAPER

The first newspaper press on the Pacific coast was set up at Oregon City, in February, 1846 The Spectator, the first newspaper was issued twice a month The Free Press was started in April, 1848 at Oregon City, worked on a press made in this country, using display type made of wood The lecturer neglected to tell us who were the editors and proprietors

THE FIRST COINAGE OF MONEY

Took place at Oregon City in the spring of 1849 Many of the people had returned from the California mines with dust, which they could dispose of to the local traders for only $11 per ounce, while its real value was $17 to $18 The Legislative Assembly authorized the assaying melting and coinage of gold, but this consummation was prevented by the intervention of the act of Congress organizing the Territory of Oregon and the coinage was done by private enterprise, giving the people what is known as Beaver coin consisting of $5 and $10 pieces with the inscription of the bearer on one side over which appeared the initial letters of the men who composed the company—K M T A W R C S—and underneath, O T 1849 on the reverse side was inscribed "Oregon Exchange Company, 130 gr native gold, 5 D " or on the $10 pieces "10 pwt 20 grs. 10 D" The dies were made by Hamilton Campbell since dead The press and rolling mill were made by W H Rector The intrinsic value of the money was 8 per cent greater than their circulating value and they were, therefore, soon bought up with United States coin and taken out of circulation

The remainder of the lecture consisted mostly of anecdotes of men, condensed accounts of adventures with hostile Indians etc which were too lengthy for publication entire here, and of which a synopsis would give no fair relation The lecturer closed with the recitation of an original poem, dedicated to the Pioneers of Oregon.

A Good Idea, —Messrs. Hudgens & Shindler desirous of accommodating their customers in this city, have had manufactured expressly for their use a splendid Furniture Wagon with which they will convey to purchasers any article in their line Free of Charge They are making room for New Goods and selling their present stock at Low Prices, The public will find this just the time to make purchases They have New Specialities in Furniture Mattresses and other Goods in their line Remember anything they sell will be delivered free to any part of the city

Filling up Constantly.—Messrs Joe Kohn & Co at the old stand of Kohn & Kubel 11 Front street, have filled up their establishment with a full line of Clothing for the Spring trade They are about to commence the jobbing business and will therefore have at all times the Largest Stock in the city As one of the firm is in San Francisco and will buy the latest Styles it will be seen at once that Joe Kohn & Co 's will be the place to find bargains in Clothing and Gentleman's Furnishing Goods The firm needs no further endorsement They guarantee full satisfaction so give them a call

Aggravated Indigestion.

Persons who are predisposed to dyspepsia find their sufferings from this cause greatly aggravated by damp weather easterly winds and sudden changes from a mild to a chilling atmosphere In the spring therefore, the pangs of indigestion are sometimes augmented by the atmospheric variations peculiar to the season and it is incumbent upon all who desire to pass through the ordeal of its cold mists and insalubrious gales with easy stomachs and untormented by the indescribable torments which accompany dyspepsia, to tone and strengthen the digestive organs with a healthful and effective vegetable invigorant, and no one at all familiar with the medical record of the age, can question for one moment that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the Tonic best adapted to this purpose

The credentials of the Great Restorative are unequalled in number and character by those of any other advertised medicine in the world If ever there was a preparation to rank as a National Remedy this wonderful specific has a right to the title For a period of twenty years it has literally been the Champion Tonic and Alterative on this side of the Atlantic. In popularity it has never been approached by any of its would be competitors, and its annual sales are so far in advance of those of any other medicine of its class that comparisons would be ridiculous One of two conclusions is inevitable Either Americans are deficient in common sense in capable of rational discrimination, or Hostetter's Bitters is the best preventive remedy for indigestion fever and ague, bilious remittent fever constipation, rheumatism nervous complaints and all maladies of an epidemic or endemic type The reader can judge for himself which of the two conclusions is most consistent with fact and reason

LITTLE HOMES!

WE HAVE OBTAINED MANY TESTIMONIALS, which appear in the Weekly Oregonian for the purpose of answering once for all the many inquiries in relation to our "LITTLE HOMES" We desire to show to strangers, through men of known integrity in this community that they are all we claim for them—cheap at present prices, and the speculation in them lies in the future growth of Portland in the building of Railroads, and Bridges over the Willamette which is merely a question of time—and in the fact that in less than one mile distant, City Blocks (200 feet square) are selling for from two to three thousand dollars, and in less than two-and-a-half miles (on a direct line) blocks are selling as high as $200,000 per block! Just think of it! $50 per acre for land and 2½ miles distant, $800,000 per acre! New York city is over twenty miles in length and six miles wide, and many other cities in the United States are half that long, and quite as wide, and if Portland becomes a metropolis she will require this land for business purposes Thirty years ago we could have purchased a section of land where the business portion of Chicago now stands for $10 per acre—$50 for a five acre tract Thirty years ago we could have purchased the town site of Portland for a Cayuse pony—but we didn't have the pony! Twenty years ago a solitary individual with neither money nor friends, found himself in Portland without a red He purchased a basket, "on tick," and filled it with oranges, on the same terms, and went to peddling Twenty long eventful years have since elapsed Still that sturdy old pioneer has stuck to Portland and worked his way through thick and thin, and now where do you think he is?—in the poor house and owes for the basket! But to our

The Theater in China

In [illegible] dramatic profession is considered [illegible] contempt [illegible] vile and dishonorable. Those who [illegible] are shut out from all literary [illegible] and cannot indulge in the hope of [illegible] inhabitants of the great empire [illegible] obtaining by merit and [illegible] walking beneath the official umbrella which shields [illegible]. The principal cause of this general contumely [illegible] from the fact that [illegible] of the [illegible] in the habit of [illegible] the children of slaves in [illegible] bring them up to the stage. [illegible] of this Chinese actors are [illegible].

[illegible] them for his contempt and [illegible] which [illegible] was [illegible] as a class [illegible] here may turn to their [illegible] on the board and in the street [illegible] influence over the public their [illegible] lors and their adventurous [illegible] merry and vagrant. They travel from town to town in companies, generally following the [illegible] of the [illegible] for travel being by water [illegible] the most comfortable way [illegible] themselves out for a few days at a time to the [illegible] or to some great personage who wishes to make a great display of munificence. They put up at small expense a temporary stage upon which they go through their repertoire, after which they move off carrying with them the joy and laughter which spring up in their path. The junk in which they travel and which very frequently forms their only home is gaudily decorated, grotesque and conspicuous, covered with extraordinary pictures, often carrying a figure head in the shape of a huge dragon, grasshopper or fish with eyes starting from its head, the outside of the cabin on deck is hung with lanterns and flutting festoons of silk. Within this cabin while on the voyage the actors study and rehearse their parts under the direction of their stage manager.

Here the Siao-Mo or sentimental man practices the squeaky voice to express youth, and strives to give to his bearing that simplicity and humanity which would indicate his being always in the presence of old age. The Techin Mo who takes the leading parts studies the expression of feature in a mirror of polished steel. The Ouaz or heavy dignitary makes himself pompous and full of majesty; the Pei Lao elderly parent studies to be grave and venerable, while the Tcheou, comic actor makes faces and counterfeits his voice. At present as women are not allowed upon the stage in China the youngest and most attractive boys of the troupe are trained to represent the young girl of illustrious origin, the virtuous wife, the frivolous women, and the widow who forgets her duties. Another set of actors study to step lightly, speak in a ghastly manner, and appear pale and diaphanous in order to depict ghosts, gods and genii. Every member of the company is accomplished in turning summersaults, singing and dancing, and playing on all kinds of instruments.

Thus they float along joyously under a clear sky, wondering at the monotony of the lives of the laborers and peasants whom they pass, greeted when they stop with enthusiastic acclamation by the people collected on the banks of the river.

The Hotel Waiter—Experience of One Who Tried to Get Along without Feeing

[Saratoga Correspondence of Cincinnati Commercial.]

The extortion in this way by the waiters of this Grand Union Hotel Saratoga is about the most impudent and infamous known to hotel thieving in the United States. From the boy with the broom to Boots with his brush through all grades, you are driven to the same extortion, and without it nothing can be accomplished. I made an experiment one night. Wishing to send to the room of my friend Jones, that was a mile up more or less, I accosted a waiter.

"What is your name, boy?"

"Andrew, sah."

"Well, Andrew, go up to 639 and tell the gentleman there that I am waiting for him."

The fellow hesitated a moment, looking at me with a peculiar expression about his eyes and then vanished. I waited ten minutes and getting no response sent Thomas after Andrew. Still receiving no reply, I dispatched William after both, giving each the same message. The response being 'nix,' I approached that elegant piece of insolent elegance that standing behind a counter defies and tortures humanity, and said to him:

"My Christian friend, will you be so condescending as to order a servant to 639, with information to the gentleman there that I am waiting for him?"

Elegant insolence rung a stunning bell that stood upon the counter, looked far beyond me, scribbled on a card and made sixteen entries in a huge book, and then condescended to look at and ask my wants. I repeated my request, and a servant answering to the name of Johnson was duly dispatched. I waited in patience to no purpose. At last I climbed to the loathsome cell of Jones to find that not one of the many messengers had arrived. Jones thought a moment and then remarked that he had a dim recollection—it could scarcely be called a recollection—that some time since his arrival at the Grand Union Hotel he had seen a servant at his door. What the servant wanted or what the servant was doing, he, Jones, was wholly unable to say.

This sounds like exaggeration, but I will venture to say that no one of our victims here called guests will dispute it as a fact. Had I given to the first scoundrel, or any of the lot, twenty-five cents, my message would have been promptly delivered.

How to Know the Age of a Horse

The colt is born with seven grinders; when four front teeth have made their appearance the colt is twelve days old, and when the next four come forth it is four weeks old. When the corner teeth appear the colt is eight months old, when the latter have attained to the height of the front teeth it is one year old. The two year old colt has the kernel (the dark substance in the middle of the tooth's crown) ground out of all the front teeth, and when three years old these are substituted for the horse teeth. The next fourth year and the corner teeth in the fifth.

At six years of age the kernel is worn out of the lower middle row of teeth, and the bridle teeth have now attained their full growth. At seven years a hook has been formed in the corner teeth of the upper jaw, the kernel of the teeth next at the front is worn out, and the bridle teeth begin to wear off. At eight years of age the kernel is worn out of all the lower front teeth and begins to decrease in the middle upper front. In the ninth year the kernel has wholly disappeared from the upper middle front teeth, the hook on the corner teeth has increased in size and the bridle teeth loose their point.

In the tenth year the kernel is worn out of the teeth next to the middle front of the upper jaw, and in the eleventh year the kernel has entirely vanished from the corner teeth of the same jaw. At twelve years old the crown of all the front teeth in the lower jaw has become triangular and the bridle teeth are much worn down. As the horse advances in age the gum shrinks away from the teeth, which consequently receive a narrow appearance, and their kernels have become metamorphosed into a darkish point, gray hairs increase on the forehead over the eyes and the chin assumes the form of an angle.

[illegible] Legal Tender quotations [illegible] buying [illegible] selling

Gold bars 800 fine par

The steamship Idaho [illegible] San Francisco until yesterday and consequently is not due here until [illegible] night.

The bark H W Almy arrived this afternoon from San Francisco with cargo assorted merchandise.

The British bark Coldstream with cargo assorted merchandise from Liverpool to Messrs Janion & Rhodes was [illegible] yesterday. She is supposed to be loaded with Ordnance stores.

The bark Wel[illegible] goes to morrow to Rainier to receive [illegible] lumber for San Francisco.

The bark Mers[illegible] will finish loading [illegible] the [illegible] of the week for [illegible]

The bark A[illegible] after discharging cargo will be laid on for San Francisco.

The Dixie Thompson reports the Coldstream at Astoria which she left [illegible] the bar last yesterday afternoon.

The last Seattle Intelligencer to hand says: "The Portland merchants seem [illegible] prepared to compete with or undersell those San Francisco houses from which the bulk of their goods are obtained and from which merchants here (Puget Sound) can purchase on as advantageous terms as they [illegible]." Had the editor of the Intelligencer been a close reader of the commercial department of this paper he would not have made such an error as the above, for he would have perceived that [illegible] leading manufacturing company in the Eastern States having agencies in San Francisco have agents in this city and many articles are disposed of here by said agents at same rates as in the San Francisco market, and other articles only have freight added. Aside from that, every Grocery jobbing house in Portland has a house in San Francisco or are connected in close business relations with leading houses there. We have been an active operator [illegible] the San Francisco market for eight years or from 1862 to 1870 and are intimately acquainted with its working and therefore speak from personal knowledge. Goods not imported by our Grocery houses are purchased in the San Francisco market from importers generally by taking an entire invoice lot by a combination with San Francisco jobbers. Importers in San Francisco only sell to merchants or jobbers engaged in business in San Francisco, Sacramento and this place at importers rates, but some of the agents, as of Starch, will sell to any one certain amounts at certain figures, the larger the amount wanted the cheaper it can be obtained, but then that is the same principle upon which agents in this city for Eastern Starch act. Space and time will not allow of our particularizing, but we will state that our leading houses in Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes etc, purchase East or in Europe from manufacturers or manufacturers agents. All Hardware—Shelf and every other description—is also from etc, are purchased direct from manufacturers or their agents East or in Europe. All Tobacco, Liquors, etc, are purchased direct from Eastern and Europe market, as also Stationery, Glassware, Crockery, etc—the two latter principally from Europe. Agricultural Implements are either sent here on commission by manufacturers East, or are purchased direct from manufacturers. To a business man from the above it is beyond question plainly evident that our merchants are on an equal footing with San Francisco merchants—not even excepting importers there—in obtaining goods, but possessing two very requisite items in disposing of goods, viz large and ample capital and small expenses in handling, they are enabled to sell to all dealers in the interior or elsewhere, who meet obligations promptly, at lower rates than the same goods can be purchased for in San Francisco. If our importers and jobbers would only cultivate more intimate and friendly [illegible] to ship direct from the East and Europe instead of as heretofore via San Francisco, the above would not be necessary, and besides would draw to us trade now seeking the San Francisco market under the supposition that they can do better in that market.

In connection with the above we might as well state that Messrs Janion & Rhodes have a packet line from Liverpool here. One of their vessels is fully due and another will probably leave Liverpool by the middle of next month. These vessels come laden with assorted merchandise (English goods). Mr Sp[illegible], who left here about two months ago [illegible] leaving informed us it was his intention to place a line of packets on between Liverpool and here for the purpose of supplying our market with direct importations from Europe, and also to take back, as return cargoes for vessels in his line, spars. Besides the above a firm in San Francisco of large means and extensive connections may possibly put on a regular line—one vessel leaving Liverpool every month. Messrs J McCraken & Co, who are agents for several manufacturing companies East, have written or intend writing to prominent parties East to see if a regular line cannot be put on from New York to this place, as all our leading Agricultural Hardware and other houses purchasing East are agitating direct shipments instead of having their goods come to San Francisco and be reshipped for this place as heretofore.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor [illegible] seeking out new remedies and has returned with [illegible] facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Disease

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering outrageously from the effects of secret indulgence absorbed into the system! Look at their [illegible] and disfigured faces and their broken [illegible] disqualifying them for the happy [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrible [illegible] sands suffer until death closes the scene. [illegible] guardians, friends attend to those who are [illegible] any of these horrible life-destroying [illegible] they are cured for and cured before it [illegible] them. Immediately to Doctor Gibbon, and [illegible] private disease his especial study [illegible] is certain to cure the most inveterate cases [illegible] mercury or any injurious drugs. It is [illegible] who are afflicted or to those who are [illegible] welfare of their friends, to be careful of the [illegible] doctors who infest all cities, [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days, [illegible] by using the names of [illegible] others [illegible] strict inquiry, or you may fall into the [illegible].

Seminal Weakness

[illegible] the [illegible] consequence of solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence by the youth of both sexes to an almost [illegible] with unerring certainty, the [illegible] of morbid sympathy [illegible] which [illegible] such as Sallow countenance [illegible] the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, the [illegible] of leaves and rattling of [illegible] about the loins, [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] things strange, or a dislike to form acquaintance [illegible] society, loss of [illegible] pimples and various eruptions [illegible] furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, [illegible] and frequent [illegible] should apply immediately [illegible] or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new [illegible] [illegible] a quick and radical cure. Caution to the Unfortunate

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and [illegible] who with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the [illegible]. Some of the self-styled doctors whose [illegible] found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tired [illegible] and lazy to work at their trades. Some are [illegible] makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office [illegible] etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and [illegible] not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you [illegible] their former occupations in it. Look at the [illegible] for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in nine cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are.
